We build effective teams, one leader at a time.

Over half of employed Americans are working from home for the foreseeable future.<sup>1</sup> And yet, the mandate for leader growth continues.

Many companies are charting new territory with a remote workforce

71%

Of US employers did not have work from home options before COVID-19<sup>2</sup>

Working from home will become the new norm for many

65%

Of Americans working from home feel more productive<sup>3</sup>

Resulting in demand for highly immersive virtual learning experiences.

83%

Of L&D functions have decided to shift in-person training to virtual<sup>4</sup>

TribusAllen recognizes that in face of our new reality, businesses are still at their core all about people and relationships. With over 20 years of experience building leaders and enhancing organizational cultures based upon authenticity, trust, and collaboration we are:

- Experienced in design and facilitation of learning & development (L&D) experiences that are customized, dynamic and highly engaging—working with leading organizations such as: Aflac, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Duke University, DPR Construction, and Facebook
- Skilled in fostering authentic connection and collaboration that build trust and cohesion virtually via multiple teleconferencing platforms
- Experts in fostering team-building and morale by leveraging the science of emotional intelligence and leadership theory
- Accomplished partners to executive leadership teams on strategy, growth, and innovation.
- Focused on designing virtual learning for action and lasting impact. Trusted by Top Organizations as a “go-to” virtual L&D resource

“

TribusAllen redesigned our critical leadership programs from in person to virtual learning experiences with overwhelmingly positive participant feedback. TribusAllen is a trusted and valued virtual partner.

– VP HR Dev, Pentagon Federal Credit Union

As the pandemic hit and life changed, I became concerned about our team’s ability to collaborate and connect while working remotely. Thanks to TribusAllen, we have maintained the relationships that build trust, align our teams, and keep our company focused on moving forward virtually.

– CEO, Ram Tool Construction

I highly recommend the TribusAllen team to anyone looking for a passionate and authentic partner to further develop their workforce in these increasingly challenging times. I regard them as one of the absolute best in the business.
